Are you a theatre kid? Were you a theatre kid? Do you have a theatre kid? Playbill is celebrating all theatre kids with a very special collaboration: The Little Theatre Kid Collection, presented by The Playbill Store!

The Little Theatre Kid, created by illustrator and writer Ben Diskant, focuses on wholesome art that embraces the sensitive child within and celebrates the joy of theatre. Using a mix of watercolor, marker, pen, and colored pencil, Diskant's work centers around a theatre-loving kid named Charlie and his many friends, including Arthur (who wants to be a Broadway dancer), Cassidy (who is a witch), Hog Eye from Sunset Boulevard, and many more.

Says Diskant: "My work often centers around my own inner child and my love and curiosity for musical theatre. I spent a great deal of my life trying to erase parts of myself I didn't like...I now have a pen and am drawing them back in."

This special collection celebrates the little theatre kid in each of us. Using the power of Playbill's iconic history, and our audience's passion for Broadway, this 13-piece collection includes canvases, mugs, totes, and more—offering fans a perfect addition for their home and their next theatre trip.

"The moment I saw Ben's work, and how he showed the unique nature of what it's like to be a kid in love with theatre, was extremely powerful for me," shared Alex Birsh, VP/COO of Playbill. "His ability to connect such emotional response from his drawings immediately pulled me into wanting to work with him. I'm thrilled to do so and see how the Playbill Store can bring The Little Theatre Kid to the masses!"

Visit PlaybillStore.com for the full Little Theatre Kid collection or scan the QR code. For more about the artist, please visit TheLittleTheatreKid.com.

Happy new year and welcome back to the Walnut for SHERLOCK HOLMES: THE GREAT DETECTIVE. We hope this performance captivates and inspires you to return for the rest of our season.

This spring, I'm excited to bring you Edward Albee's A DELICATE BALANCE, winner of both the Tony Award and the Pulitzer Prize. Closing our season with spirit and song is the bold and stirring 1776 The Musical. Our gift to you and Philadelphia is the gripping retelling of America's fight for independence, which all happened mere steps away.

I am also thrilled to announce the lineup for our 218th Season — what might be our most exciting season yet! THE ADDAMS FAMILY MUSICAL, Disney's FROZEN THE BROADWAY MUSICAL, David Mamet's GLENGARRY GLEN ROSS, Noël Coward's PRESENT LAUGHTER and a new production of the acclaimed musical COME FROM AWAY. I invite you to renew or subscribe today to this spectacular season!

In addition to our unforgettable Mainstage Season, we are delighted to open our doors for the Theatre School at Walnut Street Theatre, welcoming students of all ages to explore their passion for performance in our spring semester classes and this summer at Camp Walnut. We are also thrilled to continue our Walnut Kids' series, with the rousing, high-energy musical Disney's NEWSIES JR.

But for now, sit back and enjoy the intrigue, mystery and comedy in the world premiere of SHERLOCK HOLMES: THE GREAT DETECTIVE. We are so happy you are here and we cannot wait to welcome you back very soon!

Sincerely,

BRIAN KURTAS, CSA (Associate Artistic Director) has been associated with WST since 2007. He began his career here as a performer and in the apprenticeship program and has since dedicated himself to bringing artists together. He now serves our audiences in the various capacities of casting, directing, programming, and literary management, as his function is to bring the finest artists to our historic stage. His vision behind unforgettable live experiences and storytelling has become a creative solution from the stage to the screen — he spent 4 seasons as the Executive Producer of Gretna Theatre, cast for commercials and films, and helped create events for brands such as T-Mobile and Walmart while at Live Nation. Originally from Lancaster, Brian is a proud Temple alum, a published playwright, and a member of the Casting Society of America.

His extensive career has spanned Summer Stock to Broadway as an actor, stage manager, box office treasurer, theatre manager, marketing and public relations director and general manager. After several years working with commercial theatre, he has devoted his career to non-profit theatre companies since 1987. To date, Mark has been associated with more than 500 stage productions. An avid collector of musical theatre recordings, his collection contains over 3,500 cast albums from around the world. He has served on several boards including the National Alliance for Musical Theatre where he now holds the honorary position of Board Emeritus and the Advisory Committee of Samuel French, the international play publisher and licensing company. With Bernard Havard he co-authored the book Walnut Street Theatre.

BERNARD HAVARD (President and Executive Producing/Artistic Director) Vox Populi (The Voice of the People) was written on WST Playbills in the 1800s. Whenever WST has strayed from a populist program, the theatre has gone bankrupt. When I came here 43 years ago, we had no programs and no audience. Today we enjoy one of the largest subscription bases of any theatre in the world. So, my thanks to our loyal audience and a warm welcome to newcomers who enjoy and believe in what we do. I admire the artists who dedicated their lives to the theatre and WST, particularly. Our theatre is a non-profit 501-C3 institution, and we rely on contributed income to extend our reach into the community. Last season we reached more than 62,743 students in our city schools. We have 19 esteemed trustees who give their time, wisdom, and contributions to help guide this historical treasure. I came to WST in 1982, and I am as excited now about our future as I was in the beginning. My heartfelt thanks to all who enter this theatre. Beauty and the Beast, For 200

At this Philadelphia school, the annual production involves everybody.

By Dylan Parent

Welcome to PLAYBILLDER Spotlight, where Playbill highlights shows from educational institutions or regional theatres and special events around the country (who have used Playbill's program-building service). By welcoming these PLAYBILLDERs center stage, we hope to give our readers a more in-depth look at theatre programs that are fostering the love of the performing arts in the next generation and the way theatre lovers are bringing Playbill along for life's big moments.

Below, we spotlight Julia R. Masterman Laboratory and Demonstration School of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania and their production of Disney's Beauty and the Beast. Instrumental Music teacher Kim Kelter Neu shared with Playbill just how many children came together to put up the show.

Tell us a little about yourself.

How many years have you been teaching?

Kim Kelter Neu: I've been teaching for 25 years and our musical is certainly the highlight each year.

How does your school's performing arts program impact your community?

Our school musical brings together our community, involving over 200 students from both middle and high school. Students make the sets and the props as well as run the sound control, the lights, play in the orchestra, and, of course, star in the show! Families leave our show amazed at what the students have achieved.

How do you choose shows for your students?

When we choose our show, we always pick something that involves all the students. It must have a chorus and a full orchestra. This limits our choices but allows us to include the most students. We also must keep in mind that our school is grades five through 12, so whatever show we pick must work for fifth and 12th graders alike. Beauty and the Beast was an easy and perfect choice this year!

What reactions do you expect to see in students when they see their name printed in this Playbill for the first time?

Students love seeing the finished Playbill, especially the ads their family and friends put in for them.
